

Best Christmas Village Videos of 2019

Every year I keep a list of the best Christmas village videos I've seen. I probably watch between 100 and 200 videos each season. When I pulled out the 2019 list it had no newbies, no surprise video makers – just old favorite video makers.

Be sure to check out all the other topnotch and timely columns on TheVillageCollector.com – the always interesting "Just So You Know (JSYK)" by David Spears, "Phil & Sue's Village" (from England!), "From Italy: Villaging in Europe" by Peppe Apuleo (fascinating!), "A Dickens Christmas" and "Hauntsville" by Larry Treadwell, and much more by webmaster Bill Channell. Please keep visiting the Village Videos page and watch, watch, watch. There will be a new batch of village videos starting on the 1st of each month! So many ideas, so little time... and not enough money.

If there is a theme to what is in all these well-done videos, it's that you have the time and lighting to see everything. You are transported down into each village. Each video evokes a feeling for Christmas with well-chosen music. So, get another person and a bowl of popcorn, and let's go to the Christmas village movies. There is a total viewing time of 1 hour, 27 minutes!

This village by Julio Ronco is immense! The video has good videography and great lighting.

As always, everything is so well done by Vaggelis. Classic Euro design, comprised of very short video clips, lots of close-ups, and a very steady camera.

There is so much to learn about videoing your Christmas village, no matter the size, from watching Madastiville's work. He uses premier lighting, which lets you see everything, and he keeps us down at village level. You feel as if you're in the villager's world.
