

*"It is nice to look at the Christmas Villages of the friends"
9 june, 2022 by Peppe Apuleo*

Christmas is made up of centuries-old stories, tales and traditions. Traditions so magical that they are handed down from generation to generation without ever getting lost in time. In my humble opinion, an important aspect is to visit the Christmas villages, spring villages or villages in general of your friends in order to be able to exchange ideas, opinions and concepts both on the construction and on the purchases of the various products. In this article I will talk about some friends' villages that I have seen videos and photos and I am very passionate about what they have made. In these villages I notice a great passion, but above all a love in building and assembling all the parts, from the buildings to the characters to finish with decorative elements. Here are some villages of friends who sent me their photos and I like to share with you all.

Villager from Arese (Lombardy region) Italy*

The Christmas village of Leida is Victorian in style, although it allows for some small variations on the theme, according to your taste. His first purchased item was the elf track which is a Lemax piece from the Santa's Wonderland environment category. In Leida Village there is always a themed area above the clouds, where Santa Claus lives. Leida loves the mountains and also creates a small mountain village that connects to the town.

I really like her village there is a great passion and a great taste also in buying the buildings that are for the most part of the lemax. ### "Detail" it is the details that make the Christmas village unique, it is the fusion of buildings, characters and decorative details. The person who inserts these elements into a village has in their mind the blueprint of what it will look like when finished to give the viewer a great effect.

Whether it is a big city or a small town, the meeting point is always the central square with the majestic fountain, the benches and the street lamps that frame the citizens who have a meeting point. Maura represented the daily life of a village in an excellent way in this part of the village.
